ROOMS & SUITES

178 rooms and suites designed with a contemporary and refined style, inspired by nature, mountains, and water. The materials used come from Switzerland and neighboring countries such as France, Italy, and Germany. Adorned with contemporary Swiss artworks, they pay tribute to the history of the location, Swiss landscapes, and the journey of the river, from glaciers to the Mediterranean.

The marble bathrooms feature a separate bathtub and a walk-in shower, along with diptyque products designed exclusively for the hotel. Bathed in natural daylight, they are decorated in a soothing palette of gray, yellow, and blue, luxuriously providing the most beautiful accomodations in Geneva.

SIGNATURES SUITES

The Signature Suites at Mandarin Oriental, Geneva offer an intimate expression of refined living, each defined by generous space, privacy and exceptional views over the Rhône, the Old Town and the Alps.

The Panoramic Suite, located on the sixth floor, is a serene retreat overlooking the river, city and mountains, combining elegance with a strong sense of privacy. The Royal Suite is designed for both seclusion and entertaining, with the option to expand into a three-bedroom residence and a dedicated dining space.

At the top of the hotel, the Penthouse Terrace Suite opens onto a furnished panoramic terrace and features residential-style living, a wine cellar, fireplace and a marble wellness bathroom with hammam. The hotel's newest Royal Terrace Suite crowns the seventh floor with three bedrooms, an expansive terrace, refined living and dining areas, and a private entertainment room.

A curated collection of exclusive spaces, designed for those seeking discretion, comfort and a true sense of place in Geneva.

Japanese fine dining and Omakase experience at SACHI

OTTOLENGHI

Rooted in the philosophy of the London-based restaurant ROVI, the restaurant focuses on live-fire cooking and fermentation,offering a colourful vegetable-centric menu with a vibrant cocktail bar.

With 120 seating places, it's a place to get together, eat, and enjoy food that's both rooted and inventive – a celebration of what vegetables, fire, and thoughtful cooking can bring to the table.

The menu highlights the best of the Swiss region, while staying true to Ottolenghi's signature style. The space, designed by Alex Meitlis, feels warm and welcoming.

A live-fire grill takes centre stage, surrounded by a mix of natural woods, deep reds, and soft golds. Bespoke artworks, inspired by the late Ivo Bisignano, complete the space –all set against views of the Rhône River.

At the helm of Ottolenghi Geneva is Head Chef Maxime Martin, bringing over seven years of expertise at Mandarin oriental, Geneva. Since joining the hotel in 2018, he has built upon a distinguished culinary career, honed in Michelin-starred kitchens.

Ahead of the opening, Maxime trained in Ottolenghi's London kitchens under Neil Campbell, Executive Chef of Ottolenghi group. Maxime co-created the menu in Geneva and has infused Ottolenghi's vibrant Mediterranean flavours with distinct Swiss touches, showcasing his commitment to local, seasonal ingredients and celebrating the region's rich culinary history.

SACHI

A refined setting in the heart of Mandarin Oriental, Geneva, SACHI offers a unique immersion into the world of contemporary Japanese cuisine.

Opened in October 2022, SACHI is an exceptional Japanese restaurant nestled in the heart of Mandarin Oriental, Geneva. Under the direction of Chef Mitsuru Tsukada, disciple of the legendary Nobu Matsuhisa, the restaurant offers cuisine that is as elegant as it is inspired. Each dish reflects exceptional expertise, from the famous black cod with yuzu miso sauce to the precision-cut sushi.

The décor combines local wood and Japanese craftsmanship in a subtle interplay of materials and light, echoing the movements of the nearby Rhône River.

The Omakase Bar is the jewel in the crown, welcoming ten guests in an intimate atmosphere for a tasting menu orchestrated to perfection according to the chef's inspiration.

A timeless interlude, enhanced by the tranquillity of a light-filled veranda and the delicacy of an aperitif at the Martini Bar.

SACHI is more than a restaurant: it is an invitation to savour Japan with grace and intensity, in the heart of Geneva.
